KLÖCKNER PENTAPLAST INTRODUCES NEW PENTADECOR® DURALINE™ 2D SCRATCH-RESISTANT DECORATIVE SURFACE FILMS

Montabaur, Germany, September 16, 2010 – The Pentadecor® film product line has been extended to include Pentadecor® Duraline™ 2D scratch-resistant, high-gloss films for decorative surfaces.

Pentadecor® Duraline™ polyester films provide the highest scratch resistance (>2 N) in combination with an excellent high-gloss surface (>85) available on the market today. Klöckner Pentaplast is the only producer of these films. Pentadecor® Duraline™ polyester films are offered globally and produced in Europe. With over 20 years of polyester production experience, Klöckner Pentaplast is a leading global producer of rigid polyester films.

Engineered to meet today's trendy look while ensuring superior durability and performance, these films work with existing flat-lamination materials, adhesives, and equipment. Pentadecor® Duraline™ polyester films provide consistent processability for optimal performance. Available in solid colors, these films are ideal for 2D flat-lamination applications such as furniture, case goods, and home décor products.

“As a worldwide leader in the production of rigid polyester films and a trusted source for decorative surfaces films, we can deliver film solutions like Pentadecor® Duraline™ 2D polyester films,” notes Sandra Ruhlig, Klöckner Pentaplast's Decorative Surfaces Films Business Manager. “These pioneering films provide customers with the high-gloss surface the market demands coupled with the best scratch resistance available for a beautiful surface that lasts.”
